

As Artists Saw the Immortal Washington

Full length portrait of Washington by Gilbert Stuart. The painter completed seven full-length studies of the first President, this one being exhibited in 1795 in the museum maintained by the Society of Tammany, New York. In later years it became the property of William H. Tweed.

The Houdon statue of Washington at Richmond, Va., erected in 1875.

The standard portrait of Washington by Gilbert Stuart.

Washington at Valley Forge. A painting by Charles Wilson Peale, painted in 1778.

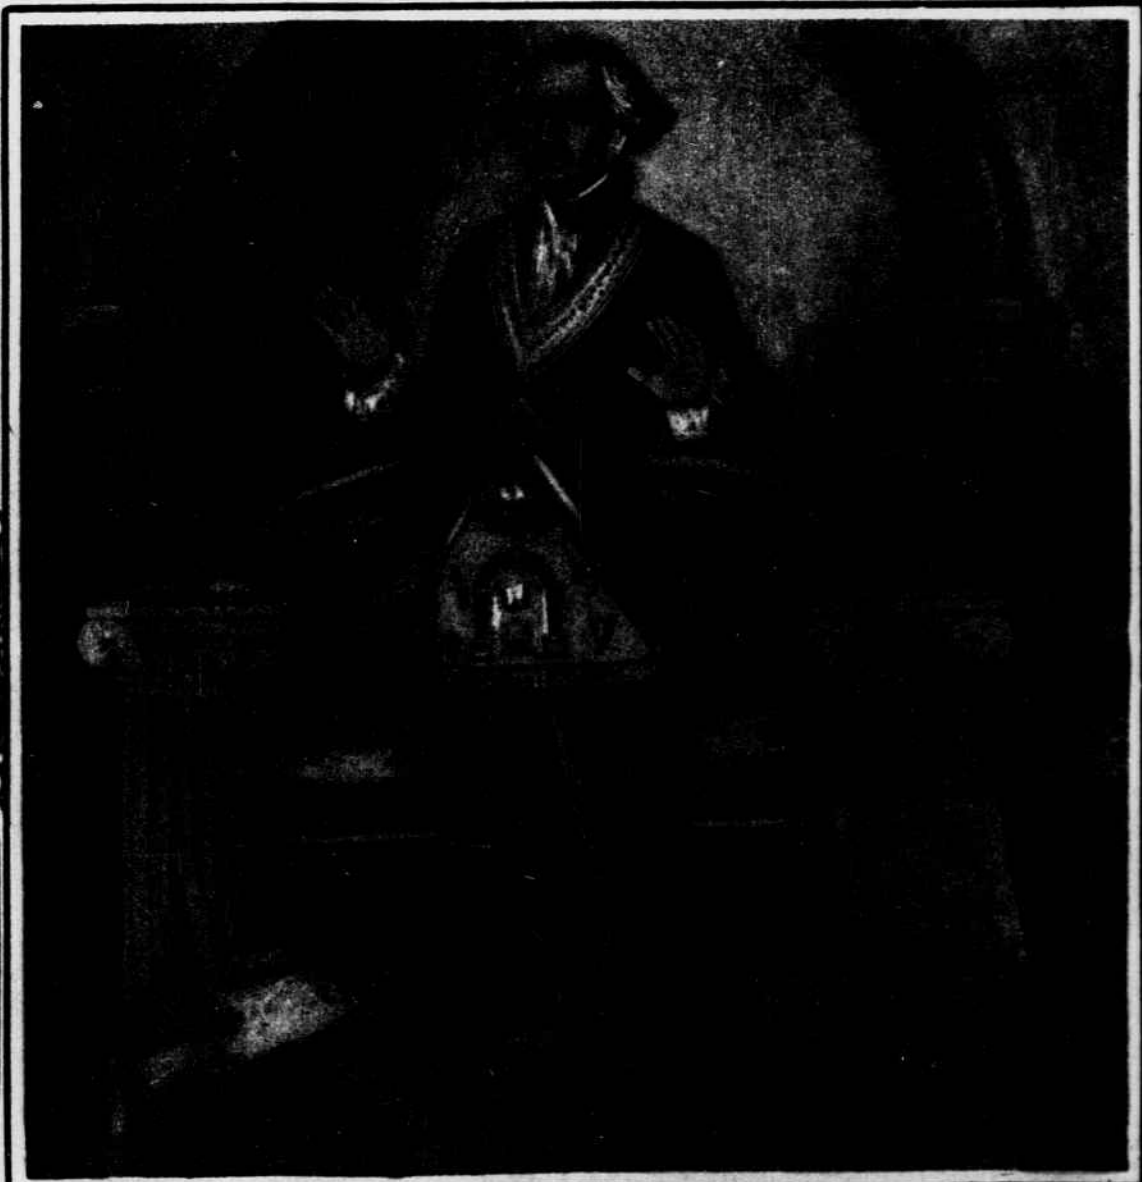

Washington at home at Mount Vernon, painted by Edward Savage in 1789.

Washington at Trenton, painted by Col. Trumbull in 1792.

Fairfax courthouse, where the original will of Washington is carefully protected. The statue in front of the courthouse marks the spot on which the first soldier killed in the civil war fell.

Washington as a Mason. From a rare print.